With the Hunters.

Several parties of big game hunters left on Friday, for the West country, to shoot big game.

Two or three other groups of Nimrod left on Monday—the latter parties intended to stay until they got their full complement of game.

The hunters have been very fortunate this season, in having the ground covered with snow for the opening of the shooting season, as the spores of the big game animals show more plainly, making stalking easier. It is the first time in a number of years this has occurred.

Those who have returned join in the chorus raised by hunters in former seasons—that, for the purpose of conserving big game, the shooting of moose cows be allowed.

The experiences of observers in other seasons in the big game area goes to show that moose cows are shot by amateur hunters each season who are afraid to remove the carcasses owing to the stiff penalty imposed, when caught. If time permits an extended stay, the amateur goes ahead and eventually bags a bull.

Hunters contend that if the Game Act were altered, to permit the shooting of cow moose, the conservation of these big game would be achieved by a reduction in the number of animals thoughtlessly slaughtered.

To Settle An Issue

There are few people in Western Canada, and in the east as well for that matter, who will not follow with lively interest the proceedings before the Royal Commission appointed by the Saskatchewan Government to inquire into all the circumstances surrounding the "On to Ottawa" trek of relief camp strikers, which started out from Vancouver this summer and culminated in the Dominion Day rioting in Regina, in which a city police detective lost his life and scores were injured.

The inquiry, which is to be held in Regina may be regarded as an event of major importance to the whole country, in view of the fact that charges have been made public that the purpose and intent of the movement was to upset the constituted government of Canada and to impose on the country a government by unlawful means.

This has been denied by the strikers' leaders, who have insistently declared that their purpose was peaceful and inspired only with the desire to draw their grievances to the attention of the Federal government and the people in the hope that by this means these grievances would be remedied.

Which is correct, the charge or the denial, the people at large have no means of knowing at the present time, but it is sincerely to be hoped that sufficient evidence will be brought before the Commission to settle the question definitely one way or the other.

The charge, of course, is a serious one, since, if true, it involves a serious threat to the democratic form of government which has been bequeathed to the people of Canada and has been carefully fostered and cherished by them since Confederation. The whole trend of the history of the country since that date has been to bulwark and strengthen that form of government which decrees that at periodic intervals the people of the country shall decide by their ballots at the polls what administrative policies they desire.

On the other hand, if there is no truth in the charge, the public is entitled to know it. During their advance through the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan as far as Regina, the young men making their way towards Ottawa gained a measure of sympathy and support from a section of the public.

Those who assisted the men on their trip to the capital in the belief that it was a peaceful delegation to supplicate the government to terminate certain grievances, whether those grievances were real or fancied, will want to know whether their confidence was misplaced or not.

Those young men who joined the movement in a spirit of youthful adventure as the strikers progressed through the western provinces, as is alleged many of them did on the assumption that it was a peaceful and law-abiding pilgrimage, will also want to know whether they were bound on an innocent quest or were unwitting and pliable tools in the hands of a menacing leadership, as has also been alleged.

These are matters which should be cleared up definitely and finally for the sake of the peace of mind of the public generally and for the information of participants in the march and of those who sympathized with them and aided them.

There is one way, however, for these questions to be definitely determined and that is by all those who have specific information on the movement and its motives to come forward and offer their testimony without fear or favor. Such information, no matter what it may be, provided it is reliable, will, it is safe to say, be welcomed by the Commission and the public.

It must be borne in mind that the Commission is purely a fact-finding body. It is not charged with the duty of drawing conclusions from the evidence adduced, or of making recommendations as a result of the information it receives.

The Commission's duties are confined to bringing out whatever facts they and their counsel may be able to secure and, while, no doubt, every effort will be made to gain as much information as possible, the value of the Commission's work to the public will be limited to the extent that such information is made available.

If those who have important information on the subject matter of the inquiry, neglect to bring it to the Commission's attention, to that extent the investigation will necessarily fail to fulfill its full purpose and to that degree the inquiry will be disappointing.

No matter how economically handled a Royal Commission inquiry is bound to involve considerable expenditure and it is to be hoped that those who have information of value will submit it and help the public to secure a good return for the expense entailed.

Prominent Writer Dies

Frank Yeigh Was Authority On Canadian Affairs

Widely known as a lecturer, writer and authority on Canadian affairs, Frank Yeigh, 75, died in Toronto after a brief illness.

He was born in Burford, Ont., and was educated at the public school there. After a period of secretarial and publishing training in Chicago he came here in the late 70's and became secretary to Hon. A. S. Hardy, first provincial secretary and later Ontario premier.

Later he became editor of the weekly newspaper, Canadian Advance. He married Kate Westlake, author of "A Specimen Spinner," in 1902. She died in 1906.

In 1908 he married Annie Louise Laird, daughter of Rev. Robert Laird, of Kingston. He travelled through the British Isles and Europe in succeeding years and in 1920 became Canadian representative of the Save the Children Fund, an international organization sponsored by the League of Nations aimed at relieving distress among women and children.

Requests For Dionne Bowls

Premiums Have Been Given To People All Across Canada

That the Dionne quintuplets are very dear to the hearts of the people of Canada is amply demonstrated in the tremendous demand for the "Quint" souvenir bowls being given away as premiums in connection with Quaker Oats. Although the premium offer was first made only a comparatively short time ago, already literally thousands upon thousands of requests for the bowls have been received from families all over the Dominion. Requests for premiums, according to The Quaker Oats Company, come from people in every grade of life, high and low, and from both men and women, as well as children.

The premium offer of chromium bowls bearing a reproduction of the heads of the five famous babies in intaglio on the bottom, and their names carved around the rim, is being made to mark the fact that Quaker Oats was chosen by the best food experts in the country as the breakfast cereal for the children. The Dionne Quintuplets have been eating Quaker Oats regularly since their very earliest months.

Quaker Oats was chosen because of its remarkable richness in Vitamin B. Food editors of leading publications are constantly printing articles stressing the importance of this vitamin. They also recommend oatmeal because of its abundance of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein, and energy-making carbohydrates. So the "Quints" get bowls of Quaker Oats.

Regular Aeroplane Service Across the Atlantic Appears To Be Nearing Realization

Prediction by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell shortly after the Wright brothers made their memorable first heavier-than-air machine flight at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, that a regular aeroplane service across the Atlantic would be operated during the present generation appears to be nearing realization.

And a more important part of the prophecy, as far as Cape Breton is concerned, is that plans for the ocean service may call for a landing field at Sydney.

It is believed that Sydney is greatly favored as the terminus on the Atlantic seaboard.

Word from Montreal is to the effect that work is being rushed across Canada for completion of the transcontinental airway so that European passengers and mail would be less than three and a half days away from the St. Lawrence city next year and less than five days from Vancouver.

Single unimpeded men are constructing 114 landing fields across the Dominion at approximately 25-mile distances as part of a gigantic employment relief program. Most of these fields are nearly completed now.

Should the transatlantic service be developed, it is believed Montreal would be the main eastern terminal with aeroplanes connecting there for the western routes. Maritime stop would probably be at Halifax, Fredericton, Moncton and Saint John.

The Canadian airway will go from Montreal to Elmstead by way of Ottawa. Elmstead, where a radio beacon is being operated will be the junction point for aeroplanes from Toronto and southern Ontario. Radio beacons are also planned for points near Cobalt, Kapuskasing, and Sioux Lookout, all in northern Ontario. Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Plover and Lethbridge will have beacons and a feeder line will connect with the Arctic air mail routes from Lethbridge.

Approximately 12,000 men have been employed on the airway construction plan. They are housed in camps and receive regulation army rations.

Sydney's city council appointed Mayor S. E. Muggah and City Solicitor Finlay Macdonald as a committee to gather all available data relative to a transatlantic base being established here. One of the chief advantages Sydney has to offer is that it is the only place on the Atlantic coast with sufficient landing space that is relatively free from fog for the year round.

Comical Competition

Whiskerino Derby And $100 Prize Helps To Promote Race

After 20 days of hair-raising competition, Andrew Duncan was chosen winner of Drumheller's "Whiskerino" Derby and a $100 prize. His fertile face produced the best yield in a field of 27. David Jones was second-losser by a close shave.

The contest, run by the Drumheller Miners Hockey Club, brought out hirsute hopefuls with everything from neat Van Dyke effects to uncontrolled coverings bidding for victory on quantity.

Disappointment of entrants who achieved only a dirty face effect was relieved by consolation prizes.

Bird Makes A Get Away

It's not a bad story that Dr. W. C. Cammell, of Stratford, Ont., tells about the one that got away—it's a bird story. He had been shooting pheasants, he said, and had been carrying two in a bag for about two hours when he heard a whirr—one made hasty exit from the bag and flew away.

The year 1931 was an exceptionally healthy one in the United States and Canada, according to life insurance records, which show the lowest death rate on record for that year.

"Jack," said the plumber's wife as he was leaving home on a hurry call, "bring me a jar of oiled cream from the drug store when you come back for the tools you're forgetting."

Seed Wheat

Advice Concerning Use Of Rusted Wheat For Seeding Purposes

On account of the wheat rust epidemic in the prairie provinces many farmers will be obliged to use wheat as seed which has been more or less injured by this disease. Many badly rusted samples have already been tested in the laboratories of the Seed Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture at Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Calgary. Germination tests show that even very poor, shrunken kernels are capable of producing seedlings, but these seedlings are weak and spindly. It should be remembered that germination conditions in the laboratory are practically ideal, and that very many of the weak seedlings will not survive in the field particularly if soil moisture and temperature conditions are not favourable at the time of seeding.

Owing to the size of the rusted kernels there are very many more per bushel than in normal plump wheat. This means that in spite of injury rusted seed will give a good stand. However, the seedlings will be weak and subject to the attacks of root rots and similar diseases. Badly shrivelled seed should not be treated with formalin for the control of smut, instead copper carbonate or one of the dusting materials recommended should be used.

Rusted cereals should be well cleaned so that the heavier kernels are used for seeding.

Average farm values per head of sheep, swine and poultry in 1934 increased over those of 1933, cattle alone showing slightly lower values. Milch cows decreased in value from $31 to $29 per head, and other cattle remained unchanged at $17. Sheep (lambing from $4 to $4.18; ewine from $8.89 to $9.86; and poultry from 56 cents to 59 cents per head.

Friendship Chain Letters

Rural Districts Have New Way Of Gathering Patches For Quilts

Quilting bees have been popular during the depression days of Saskatchewan—housewives saved all the pieces of cloth available and made quilts instead of buying them at the stores. Clubs and societies held their bees and made dozens of quilts for institutions such as the orphanages, Indian schools, etc.

Now, however, there will be added zest in the popular pastime for it has come under the eye of some shrewd print manufacturers, say women who have received what is the last word in chain letters. Yes, the chain letter has gone right into quilting bee and it is captioned "The World's Friendship Quilt."

The letter runs on the same principle as all former chain letters, but there is no money to be sent. The receiver of the letter is asked to carry on the chain until her name appears at the top of the list, and at that time she will have 250 six-inch squares of print, that can be made into "beautiful and elaborate quilts."

Several organizations have already taken a lively interest in the new fad, and throughout the rural districts of the province, women are getting their letters daily—Regina Leader-Post.

The lowly porcupine belongs to one of the first families of North America. A fossilized lower jaw found in the Snake River valley of Idaho has determined its antiquity at between 2,000,000 and 10,000,000 years.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

LET'S GO HUNTING

It's the wise hunter who keeps his camera loaded and ready to snap the real story-telling pictures such as this one.

Don't these cool, crisp fall mornings sort of give you the hunting fever? In spite of all the pleasures you had during the good old summer time you probably look upon the fall hunting season as one of the highlights of the year, and as you sit enjoying a good evening smoke, isn't it a lot of pleasure to talk over the happenings of the day?

There should be more to a hunting trip, however, than tracking your game, or anticipating that tense moment when the antlers of a fine young buck make their appearance through the trees, or else carelessly makes a wild dash into the clearing and you put up a valiant fight against a severe attack of "buck fever."

Your snapshots can picture your trip from the time you and your hunting pals load your outfit bags, guns, blankets and other equipment until your return with new trophies.

Space will not permit enumerating all the picture possibilities on such trips. Picture taking opportunities, however, seem to be the habit of appearing at the most unexpected moments so it's the wise hunter who keeps his camera loaded and ready for action.

If you have never before taken snapshots under overcast fall skies it is important to remember that it will be necessary to give a longer exposure than ordinarily made under summer's bright sunshine.

But your snapshots should not be confined to outdoor pictures for it is at night in the cabin or lodge you can take pictures of your party seated around the open fireplace swapping yarns and reviewing experiences in this and former hunting expeditions.

You will find that Photoflash bulbs will serve your purpose admirably. A Photoflash bulb is similar in appearance to a common electric light bulb and can be screwed into a special, but inexpensive holder, resembling an ordinary hand flash-light tube. This can be purchased at almost any store selling photographic supplies.

The flash is set off by pressing the flash button and it gives an intense light without any noise or smoke.

After placing your camera on a tripod or stand and support look into the finder and be sure you can see all who are to be included in the picture. Make your camera an important part of your hunting equipment and on your return have a picture story to show to your friends.

JOHN VAN GUILDER.

A slightly lower weight per bushel and slightly higher protein content than last year's corresponding grades were indicated in the milling and baking characteristics of the western Canada 1935 wheat crop in a report issued by the research laboratory of the board of grain commissioners.

Considering the general baking quality, said the report prepared by Dr. F. W. Golden, chemist in charge, the No. 1 Hard to No. 3 Northern inclusive this year were not quite equal to the 1934 crop. In the lower grades, the wheat was either equal or superior. The report said this showed the difference in baking quality between the high and low grades was not as widespread as usual.

The rusted grades, Nos. 4, 5 and 6 special, possessed excellent baking strength although they produced comparatively low yields of flour which had a pronounced yellow color. The new Garnet grades, No. 1 and No. 2 C.W., were of high test weight and flour yielding capacity. Like the special grades, however, the flour was distinctly yellow.

Operating On Building

Cut Five Feet From Middle Then Join And Reuse

Instead of slicing five feet off the Olive Street frontage of the Commercial Exchange at the corner of Eighth Street, Los Angeles, Calif., to allow for the widening of the street, engineers have decided to cut a strip across the middle of the building and then roll the skyscraper back from the original building line in Olive Street.

The building is thirteen stories and the highest structure ever put on rollers, according to George B. Kress, of the Kress Housing Moving Company, which is doing the job. He estimates that he will have to slide more than 5,000 tons of steel, brick and cement—thirteen tiers of offices and stores—five feet without disturbing street traffic or the tenantry of the building. It is perhaps one of the most delicate engineering jobs which has been undertaken in this country in many years.

When the city authorities of Los Angeles sent out orders that Olive Street was to be widened the owners of the Commercial Exchange called in engineers and together went into the question of what should be done. They were told that the simplest solution to the problem would be to slice the five feet off the Olive Street front of the thirteen-story structure and then construct a new facade, but that would cost considerable money. It would be cheaper, it was pointed out, although more troublesome, to gouge five feet out of the centre of the building and roll the structure back to the rear half of the structure. This plan was accepted and for twenty-seven days builders have been at work cutting away five feet to provide more room for traffic on Olive Street, the result of progress.

When the cut has been made and the front section moved back to meet the rear section, the two parts will be "sewed" together. When it is complete the structure will show no signs of the major operation which it has been through.

Cross-Bred Wool

The wool of prime interest in international trade are merino and cross-bred. Canada, New Zealand, the British Isles, Irish Free State, Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, and Brazil (which also grows merino) and Spain (which also produces carpet wool) are producers of cross-bred wool. Merino is the prevalent type of wool of Australia, Union of South Africa, and the United States. Carpet wool is turned out by Soviet Russia, China, India, French Africa, Turkey, Iran, Syria, Peru, Bolivia, Mexico, and Ecuador.

The present consumption of beef in Canada per head of population is estimated at 66.66 pounds (56.09 in 1933); pork, 66.36 pounds (74.53 in 1933); mutton and lamb, 6.28 pounds (6.23 in 1933); poultry, 9.29 pounds; butter, 30.92 pounds; cheese, 3.84 pounds; eggs, 23.31 dozen per capita.

Storing Farm Machinery

Necessary To Protect Machinery From Ravages Of The Weather

Proper care should be exercised at all times to protect the large investment in farm machinery from rapid deterioration. Heat, moisture, wind, frost and direct sunlight are the most destructive elements encountered by farm equipment.

Storage means protection against these deteriorating effects during the inactive life of the machines and has been found by the Dominion Experimental Station at Swift Current, to be the greatest single factor in prolonging the life of farm machinery.

The most active period of deterioration is during the season of machine use. It is important, however, to protect machinery the year around from the effects of weather. Generous use of paint on all wood and metal parts, wherever the original has worn thin and the removal to a dry shed of all slats, canvases, knives, ploughshares, cultivator teeth, etc., immediately the machine is out of use, will help prolong the useful life of the implement.

Pack all bearings with the correct grade of lubricant. Cover all exposed metal parts worn bright from use with oil crankcase or transmission oil before putting the machine aside even for a few days. This will keep out all dirt and moisture from the bearings and off the wearing surfaces, thus preventing excessive wear due to rust.

Clean all seed from drill boxes, make sure that all dirt is removed from plough or one-way disk bottoms and that they are well greased before leaving. All straw, grain or weeds should be thoroughly cleaned from binders, combines, separators, cultivators, disks, etc., before greasing and painting for storage.

Bright sunlight and moisture cause exposed wooden parts to warp and crack; paint applied early will prevent this destruction. Metal parts exposed will rust and wear; grease or paint will save these surfaces.

Inside storage of grain boxes, wooden drills, wagon running gears, and wooden separators is desirable, but not essential. Outside storage of machinery has been found highly successful at the above station when proper care has been exercised to protect against animals and weather by good fences, the use of paint and proper lubricants.

Western Apples Win Prizes

Canadiana Wins Highest Possible Award At English Fruit Show

The department of trade and commerce recently announced it had received a cable award a British Columbia apple grower had won the highest possible award at the Cardiff, Wales, Imperial Fruit Show.

The grower, James Lowe of Oyama, B.C., submitted an exhibit of Canadian Delicious apples which was judged the champion dessert apple of the British Empire. Competition at the show was said to have been the keenest ever known.

The cable said an exhibit of Canadian Jonathan apples received high commendation and that Nova Scotia barrelled apples in the Canadian championship class were of the highest quality and appearance seen on the British market.

Seventy Canadian exhibits were entered in the show.

Wild Barley

Skunk-tail grass, or wild barley, is a native perennial occurring from Lake Superior westward, particularly in alkaline soil where better grasses cannot thrive. It is found occasionally in Eastern Canada. This grass is a serious enemy to western stock, being a source of injury to horses, cattle, and sheep through the barbed seeds and awns penetrating the soft tissues of the animals' mouths and causing irritation and inflamed ulcers.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT "Acid Indigestion"

A WAY THAT RELIEVES THE CAUSE IN A FEW MINUTES

Many people who think they have "weak stomachs" or "indigestion," doctors say, suffer in reality from nothing more serious than acid stomach. Debt Adjustment Act

Law Regulating Disposal of 1935 Saskatchewan Crop

(Hon. T. C. Davis, Attorney-General) "Reports coming to the Saskatchewan government and representations made to the government indicate that there is a very great deal of doubt in the minds of the people of the province with respect to the law regulating the disposal of crops or the proceeds thereof in the province. Furthermore, there seems to be considerable doubt as to the protection which can be afforded to any person applying to the Debt Adjustment Board in this province."

"In view of this condition, the government thought it well to have the following statement prepared and issued:

"First in connection with the Debt Adjustment Act and the protection afforded thereunder, let me again repeat, that there is a representative of this Board to be found at the judicial centre of each judicial district in this province. These representatives have employees working under them, so that the facilities of the Board are available in every part of this province. Applications to the Board do not need to be made in person but a letter seeking information will bring a prompt reply."

"Now with regard to the law respecting disposal of crops, I have been asked to stress certain particular features:

"First: Doubt has arisen as to whether or not a farmer can be obliged to deliver more than one-third share of his crop, under a share of crop lease, mortgage or agreement."

"Second: The farmer who has agreed to deliver a share of his crop, under a share of crop lease, mortgage or agreement, may state, the farmer is only obliged to deliver one-third share of the crop and he has the privilege from this one-third share of the crop to pay one year's taxes, and if he produces the tax receipt, then he is only obliged to hand over the difference between the amount of the taxes and one-third share of the crop. This applies in every case, except where the other party to the lease, agreement or mortgage has purchased or supplied seed or has had a share in the cost of threshing and binder twine, in which case, the farmer is obliged to deliver one-half the crop, less a year's taxes. Specific provision is made in these cases in the law, giving the Debt Adjustment Board the power to relieve from these agreements and to determine what share of the crop the farmer is obliged to deliver, not exceeding one-half thereof."

"This became the law in 1933, was continued in 1934, and at the last session of the legislature was continued for the year 1935."

"The section of the Act providing for this is to be found in chapter 83 of the 1935 Statutes of Saskatchewan in an Act respecting the Limitation of Civil Rights."

Second: Then I have been asked as to the status of a farmer who has agreed to deliver a share of his crop and who falls to deliver the same. The law in this regard is as follows:

"The farmer who is the mortgagee, tenant or purchaser is by law created a trustee in favour of the holder of the mortgage, the owner of the land or, in other words, the other party to the share of crop lease or agreement, in respect of the share of crop which the farmer is obligated to deliver to the owner or other party to the contract; and the owner, vendor, owner or landlord is by law made the absolute property of such person. If the farmer, being mortgagee, tenant or purchaser, fails to turn over this share of crop to the party entitled thereto, then, of course, he has committed a criminal breach of trust and has violated the provisions of the criminal code in this regard and is subject to prosecution. Prosecutions in cases like this, however, cannot be undertaken in the same way as an ordinary prosecution, because the law specifically provides that no prosecutions can be instituted against anybody in connection with the failure to deliver a share of crop until the consent of the Attorney General has been first had and obtained, which, of course, means that each prospective prosecution, before being instituted, must be reviewed by the Attorney General and approved and authorized by him. The whole of this, of course, is subject to the restrictions under the Limitation of Civil Rights Act of the share of crop to one-third or one-half, as the case may be."

"Third: Then apparently doubt has arisen as to the rights of the individual to exemptions from seizure, and the Exemptions Act provides clearly what the rights of the debtor are. This Act provides for the exemptions to which a person is entitled, as against seizure under Writs of Execution, and the pertinent paragraphs of this Act are paragraphs 3, 4 and 5, which are as follows:

"3. Grain, flour, vegetables or meat, whether prepared for use or on foot or any of them, sufficient when converted into cash to provide food and fuel for heating purposes for the execution debtor and his family until the next ensuing harvest;

4. Six horses, oxen or mules, or any six of them, six cows, six sheep, four pigs and fifty domestic fowls besides the animals which the execution debtor may have chosen to keep as necessary food for himself and his family, and food for the same for the months of November, December, January, February, March and April or for such of those months or portions thereof as may follow the date of seizure, provided such seizure is made between the first day of August and the thirtieth day of April next ensuing; or in lieu of the horses, oxen or mules, one tractor, and one motor vehicle which has been in use for not less than one year and does not exceed four hundred dollars in value;

Provided that the exemption of one motor vehicle shall apply only to a person actively engaged in farming operations or a person whose sole occupation is that of a physician or surgeon, veterinarian, seaman, dryman or common carrier and who resides in the Province of Saskatchewan;

5. The harness necessary for six animals, one wagon, one buggy or democrat, one disc harrow or cultivator, one mower, one breaking plough, one gang plough, one set of harrows, one horse rake, one cream separator, one binder, one set of sleighs and one seed drill."

Household Arts

PATTERN 5456

A handsome afghan is a decorative accessory as well as a practical asset to a household. And here's one in four colors that is very simple to make and can be joined up in a variety of ways to give you an entirely different afghan. A great part of its charm is in the stitch used—some of the small squares are worked out in popcorns. The individual block is small, making it especially good pick-up work. Make it and you will have an afghan that will be admired by all who see it.

In pattern 5456 you will find complete instructions and charts for making the afghan shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 10

EZEKIEL TEACHES PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Golden text: Each one of us shall give account of himself to God. Romans 14:12.
Lesson: Ezekiel 18:1-32; 33:1-20.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 125.

Explanations and Comments

The Prophet's Responsibility, verses 7-9. Ezekiel is set as a watchman upon the house of Israel. A watchman's duty is to warn of danger. Ezekiel must hear the word of Jehovah and must proclaim it. He must know that God punishes wickedness, and he must warn the wicked from his way. If he should fail in his duty of warning, the wicked man has to die for his iniquity, but the prophet will be held responsible. If, however, the prophet warns the man and the man fails to heed him, the prophet is free from guilt in the matter. His was the responsibility, not of obtaining obedience, but of uttering the warning. Compare Paul's words in Acts 18:6 and 20:17-31.

"In this way Ezekiel met, possibly, the reproaches of his neighbors, who said: 'What business is this of yours anyway? Why don't you let us alone?' 'I cannot let you alone,' answered the prophet. 'God has made me your sentinel. I am charged with a lonely responsibility. I cannot be true to my own soul, or to you, unless I sound the alarm. I am not my own voice; I am God's trumpet, and this is his message' (Gaius Glenn Atkins).

God's Unwillingness That Any Should Perish, verses 10, 11. It is useless to repent: some of the watchman's despairing hearers would say: "Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we pine away in them; how then can we live?" To such he must make known that God has no pleasure in the death of the wicked; his pleasure lies in their turning from their wickedness and living: "Turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" "Obviously the prophet is not here thinking of final death, but of death in the Old Testament death means the descent into Sheol, where there is no comfort and which is a state of being in a period like Ezekiel's, death is often associated with violence and misery. It comes naturally, he used for the loss all that is worth having."

ITALY MAY ARM MERCHANT SHIPS IF NECESSARY

Rome.—Premier Mussolini, in two emergency, war-like decrees, drafted Italy's womanhood to fight league sanctions and ordered a census of the mercantile marine to determine the strength of the naval reserve.

Armed, if necessary, ships will be armed, if necessary, said the decree. In well-informed circles belief was expressed that by this step Italy intended to groom his sea-power in the event of a possible war in Europe.

All shipowners and captains were told to be ready to give information about their vessels to a mixed committee from the navy, war and communications departments.

Those ships designed as naval auxiliaries will "carry defensive arms" in case of war, the decree stipulated.

The decree divides the command of the entire merchant marine between government departments. The navy will be in absolute command of armed auxiliaries and the communications department may command "traffic ships" until these are needed by the navy.

To the women II Duce entrusted the task of feeding their families on home-grown food, making exports from sanctionist countries unnecessary. War mothers and widows were chosen to direct the "house by house" organization. By this II Duce wanted the allied countries of the Great War to realize their sanctions are striking at the families who fought for them.

An official spokesman, at the same time, called sanctions an "inhuman" attack on Italy's civil population. "Our army will not be seriously affected," he said.

The national army of women will be directed by II Duce himself, through the Fascist party. An official announcement called it a "house by house" organization of defence reprisals against sanctions. Reprisals, although they were not specified, were understood to be a refusal to buy products from "enemy" sanctionist countries.

Quebec Elections

Voting To Take Place On November 25th

Quebec.—Quebec's 15th legislature was dissolved and Nov. 25 was set for the provincial elections. Premier Taschereau made the announcement following a cabinet meeting.

The last general elections in Quebec were held Aug. 24, 1931, and Premier Taschereau might have waited until next year, if he so desired, before holding another.

Premier Taschereau has headed the government since 1920 when he took the Liberal leadership following the retirement of Sir Louis Gouin. The Liberal party has been in power since 1897.

Ottawa.—Senator Iva Fallis of Peterborough Ont., second woman member of Canada's upper chamber, has been in hospital since Oct. 18, suffering from a broken wrist and a foot injury.

Dr. Stanley F. Service, her physician, said she was not seriously hurt, that she had broken only one bone in her wrist and a bone in her right foot. He said she slipped off the curb and fell.

The corporation announced that the plant would be set up for the assembly of Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Buick motor cars with initial capacity of from 40,000 to 50,000 cars a year.

Test Validity Of Laws

Social Legislation To Be Submitted To Supreme Court

Ottawa.—Social legislation passed at the last session of parliament will be submitted to the supreme court of Canada for a decision as to its constitutional validity. Prime Minister Mackenzie King stated recently. An effort will be made to have the court's decision on these matters ready for presentation to the Dominion-provincial conference which Mr. King hopes to have late in November.

Mr. King did not give any detail as to the particular statutes to be submitted to the supreme court but it is assumed they will include those dealing with the minimum wage, minimum hours of labor, one day of rest in seven and the unemployment insurance act, most of which, while supported by the opposition were challenged by them on constitutional grounds.

Floods In Honduras

115 Lives Lost And Great Property Damage

Tegucigalpa, Honduras.—Floods sweeping Honduras had taken a known death toll of 115 lives and unofficial estimates of the damage reached more than $12,000,000.

Hundreds of Americans live in the flooded area, but none was known to have drowned.

As the swollen streams spread far beyond their banks in what officials believed to be the worst flood in the history of Honduras, the towns of Marcala and San Pedro Julia reported strong earth shocks were felt.

Losses were estimated at more than $7,000,000.

World Wheat Supply

U.S. Bureau Of Agriculture Says Stocks Much Lower

Washington.—A decrease of 240,000,000 bushels from the 1934-35 season in world supplies of wheat, including Russia and China, was reported by the U.S. bureau of agriculture.

The present world supply was reported to be 4,360,000,000 bushels, 200,000,000 bushels less than the average from 1928 to 1932.

The reduced supply was said to have resulted from smaller stocks in all major producing countries except Canada.

Doctor Was Lucky

Toronto.—Good fortune which came to Dr. Herbert H. Murray by holding an Irish hospitals sweepstake ticket on Fintail, third in the Cambridgeshire stakes at Newmarket, England, will not change the physician's plans, he said. The ticket, half of which he had sold, was worth about $49,100. "My job is taking care of sick people," he said, adding that now he had "a little money" he would not have to press his poorer patients for payment.

Says Italy The Aggressor

Co-Author Of Kellogg-Briand Pact Denounces War Policy

St. Paul, Minn.—Frank Kellogg, former secretary of state and co-author of the Kellogg-Briand pact declared that "the United States in common with other countries can and should designate Italy as the aggressor in its flagrant violation of the sovereignty of another nation."

He added the United States should "denounce Italy's violation of its treaty obligations and announce that it will take no step to interfere with or nullify the measures that other nations are now taking to put a stop to this war."

"What some of the American people seem to have forgotten and what the Italian people or their government seem to have entirely ignored," Kellogg said, "is that when Italy invaded Ethiopia and then, beyond a shadow of doubt proceeded to use war as an instrument of national policy, Italy violated a treaty with Italy."

Kellogg expressed the hope that "those who are considering trading with Italy . . . will have it borne home to them consistently that in supplying oil, cotton or machinery they are aiding and abetting a nation that is treating a solemn treaty as a scrap of paper."

Relief And Unemployment

Ottawa.—"The new government's policy with regard to unemployment relief camps will probably be announced within a few days. Defence Minister Mackenzie said the whole subject was now being studied. The government's decision would be made known after examination of all phases of the unemployment situation."

THE MAN BEHIND THE SCENES

Very few Canadians have heard of Colonel Sir Robert A. Johnson, K.B.E., and in fact he is unknown to the average Britisher, yet he holds one of the most important posts in London. Sir Robert is Deputy Master and Controller of the Royal Mint and the engraving of His Majesty's Seal. Here we see him in his office at the Mint.

Airliner Lands At Nelson

Lost U.S. Plane Makes Safe Landing In B.C. Town

Nelson, B.C.—A Northwestern Air Lines passenger plane, out of Helena, Mont., which made its last call at Billings, Mont., and then started for Spokane, made a forced landing in a rocky field on the outskirts of Nelson. Three pilots and four passengers climbed out of the damaged ship unhurt.

The giant airliner first appeared over Nelson and circled the city at a low altitude and then headed westward. It was reported later over Taghum, five miles west of Nelson, where it circled about and then continued over Trail where it was sighted.

Returning to Nelson the machine with lights ablaze circled the city and grazed mountains as it picked out a suitable landing place.

Dropping lower the pilot picked out a spot near the golf links and panicked into a rocky field. When the plane came to rest one wing rode the top of a heavy wooden fence and the body rested on a stone pile.

Passengers reported the plane lost the radio beam just out of Helena in a snow storm. They dived about attempting to pick it up without success. A northeastern wind hit the plane and they lost their bearings completely.

Alberta Liquor Prices

Increases Are Announced To Go Into Effect At Once

Edmonton.—Wines increased up to 25 cents on a 26-ounce bottle of scotch, 20 cents on a similar bottle of rye, 20 cents on imported gin, 10 cents on Canadian gin, 25 cents on the more costly liquors and five cents on a dozen pints of beer, new prices at Alberta vendors' stores will go into effect, it was announced.

The new list includes the notation in red ink: "Prices quoted in this list include an assessment for relief purposes."

The new list, however, shows steep reductions in the price of brandy imported in the bottle. One brand drops from $4.00 for a 26-ounce bottle to $3.30. Another brand shows a reduction from $5.65 to $5.10.

The increases go into effect following an announcement by Premier Aberhart that he hoped to raise $300,000 by this method.

Benefit From Snow Storm

Saskatoon.—Great benefit to western land was seen by Dean A. M. Shaw of the college of agriculture, University of Saskatchewan, as a result of the 63-hour snow storm that swept Alberta and Saskatchewan. The unfrozen ground will absorb the moisture if the snow thaws. If the white blanket remains it may keep the frost out of the ground, he said. The university recorded 120 inches of moisture as snow melted during the last 48 hours.

UNITED STATES TO STRENGTHEN NEUTRAL POLICY

Washington.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull aimed sharp and almost simultaneous blows at United States dealings of any description with either Italy or Ethiopia.

Advancing beyond any previous point the efforts to bulwark the government's neutrality policy by discouraging trade with the belligerents, the pronouncements by the president and secretary of state carried unspoken hints that still further action might be taken.

The president, after hitting at commercial profits gained from war, declared: "Accordingly the American government is keeping informed as to all shipments consigned for export to both belligerents."

Hull, employing stronger language than at any time past, asserted the neutrality policy was intended to "discourage dealings" with both of the warring countries and added: "I again repeat that an early peace with the restoration of normal business and normal business profits is far sounder and far preferable to temporary and risky war profits."

The pronouncement stirred considerable speculation. Some observers were of the opinion they possibly were intended to pave the way for some definite action should heavy war exports be shown.

Social Credit Plan

Aberhart Will Not Call Major Douglas Before Next Spring

Edmonton.—Major C. H. Douglas, reconstruction advisor to the provincial government, will not make a second visit to Alberta this year, Premier Aberhart announced. He expressed the hope it would be possible to call Major Douglas here before spring to assist the government in preparing a Social Credit plan.

As the two-year contract which the Reid government made with Major Douglas provided for a fee of $2,000 and expenses during each visit to the province not exceeding three weeks' duration, the province will be saved that additional amount if the economist does not return this year. He was last here during May of this year. Besides his $2,000 special fee for each visit, Major Douglas has a $5,000 general contract, one-half of which has been paid.

The king looked remarkably well. Queen Mary wore a pale green gown, ornamented with large paillettes, a cloak of pale green satin and a diamond tiara with a magnificent emerald in the centre.

THE ERA OF LIMITED PROFITS.

The C.W.S. News Service: From one point of view the essential nature of co-operative trading as compared with capitalist, is that co-operative business is collectively controlled and that in it profits are strictly limited—or, rather, a fixed rate of interest is paid and profits above this are returned to the consumer or devoted to collective purposes. It is true that this analysis leaves out one fact, and that an important one, namely, that the collective control is by, and in the interests of, the consumer.

Mons. Jean Dessirier, French economist, says: "It is possible that capitalist profits tend to change their character. The era of 'profit' has perhaps given place to the era of 'limited profits,' while we progress towards more collective forms of industry. Profit may be made more and more dependent on labor. The troubled years thru which we are passing, the crisis of nationalism, are perhaps only episodes in the course of a great revolution... After the excesses of the inflation, the fact that we are marching towards more collective forms of industry, towards incomes and profits less dispersed, more closely controlled, towards a more profound sense of human solidarity, is a sign of progress and not of decadence."

World Wheat Situation Improves

World's burdensome wheat surplus has practically disappeared. World's available supplies will come closer to world's requirements than in any year since 1928. Rust in Canada and the U.S.A., drought in Argentina and Australia have brought about this situation, and so a rise in price. Fear of war also is tending to increase price. Other price-making factors are the amounts Russia and European countries will offer for sale. The purchasing power of the wheat importing countries as well will have an influence. In any case the situation from the viewpoint of the producer has greatly improved.

"DANCE OF THE FOOD FADS."

In 1900 the consumption of flour in the United States was 230 pounds per head of population. In 1935 it was 160 pounds per head. This has meant a terrific loss in flour and wheat consumption and U.S.A flour mills are trying to reverse the trend, as has been done in Great Britain.

A large flour milling concern in the U. S. advertises as follows:

"While it lasted, the Dance of the Food Fads had more followers than the Tango or the Charleston. First you strangled your natural appetite. Then you selected your food by adding up the calories from a list that looked like the closing prices on the stock market page.

"Diet cranks undertook to re-fashion the body lines of the nation. Thin women grew thinner; fat women grew fatter. The number of under-nourished children increased.

"Like Tom Thumb golf, the Food Fads faded out. Calories, vitamins, proteins, violet rays, and the whole tribe of diet mischief-makers sneaked home to the long-haired professors who had turned them loose.

"The return to sane thinking and sane eating is under way. Folks are going back to old-fashioned food that is good for them. They are eating more wholesome white bread. Bread is nature's most appetising and nourishing food. The dance of the Food Fads is over."

Gas Tax Jump to be Fought.

Any action by the new Provincial Government to increase the gasoline tax in this province will meet with the strong opposition of the Alberta Motor Association, officials state.

It is realised that when the Government admits that the treasury is empty and it is hard pressed for funds, there is the danger of a further levy on motor car owners. When the Alberta tax was raised from 6c to 7c a gallon this year, there were threats that the validity of the legislation might be challenged.

Alberta was the first province to impose this tax, levying it in 1922 when the rate was 2c a gallon. That rate has been climbing ever since.

The severe burden this gasoline tax bears on motorists at present is shown in the estimate that, on the average, motorists pay a 1c gasoline tax for every 3 miles they travel. Spread over the season, the tax amounts to a fairly substantial sum, and there is a stiff car license fee in addition.

The resentment which motorists have against the gas tax could be moderated if the Government took 2 million dollars of the 3 million gas tax revenue, for example, and applied it to pay off a 20 million dollar loan to be used entirely for a hard surfacing program for this province. Spread over 20 years, the issue could be paid off by applying two-thirds of the revenue from the gasoline tax for the purpose.

Poppy Day Drive.

Poignant reminder of those days of glory and grieving, "Poppy Day" once more recurs to prompt the citizens of this country in the duties they have inherited from the past generation. To Canadian youth in this year of grace, the deep red petals of the Poppy may not carry the same significance they bore to the youth of 17 years ago.

The symbolism of sacrifice with which the Poppy has now become charged is something to which the present generation succeeds only thru the wistful memories of the ageing men who fought their country's battles, who suffered privations, endured long agonies, and finally triumphed amid surroundings carpeted with Poppies.

To wear this humble emblem on Poppy Day is to proclaim that amid all the jangling confusion thru which this country is striving valiantly to penetrate the heart and mind are nevertheless attuned to a sense of homage due those men whose patriotism inspired six hundred thousand Canadians to offer themselves for service between 1914 and 1918; of that number more than 60,000 found graves in France and Belgium. And it is over those graves the Poppy blow in perennial bloom.

The numbered dead were not strangers - they were young Canadians, filled even as the youth of today is filled, with the joy of living. So also were the 174,000 men who in 1935 bear on their bodies the marks and scars of war—the disabled ex-service men who suffered disablement on behalf of Canada.

To manifest that proud recognition of their place in this country, to mark that tribute which is their due, Poppy Day has been set aside in order that all may join in recalling the Great Sorrow.

The blood-red emblems distributed thruout Canada by Canadian Legion's vast volunteer organization are the product of disabled veterans, men striving to maintain themselves in the Veterans Shops, administered by the Dominion Government.

To purchase a Poppy is a small thing; for every citizen to do so is a big thing.

Let us all wear a Poppy on Poppy Day.

His Net Income.

A young lawyer had charge of a case tried in a fishing town in Massachusetts during which the chief witness under cross examination refused to state the amount of his gross income.

"You must answer the question," said the judge.

"But, your honor," replied the witness, "I have no gross income. I'm a fisherman; and it's all net."

Edmonton Is Still the Capital.

Some Alberta residents apparently believe Government headquarters were moved from Edmonton to Calgary. Prophetic Bible Institute, following the Social Credit party victory in the provincial election in August.

In an address Sunday at the institute Premier Aberhart built, Hon. E. C. Manning, the Provincial Secretary, asked that correspondence relating to Government business be directed to the Legislative buildings in Edmonton instead of the Calgary church.
